

Unhappy Voters Shake Up Presidential Race

Planned Parenthood Bill Stalls in Senate

Jury Keeps Death Penalty Option in Colorado Movie Massacre Case

Federal Agents to Help Stem Violence in Baltimore

YOU ARE READING A PREVIEW OF A PAID ARTICLE. SUBSCRIBE NOW TO GET MORE GREAT

U.S.

FBI Foils New York Fed Bomb Plot

By TAMER EL-GHOBASHY and DEVLIN BARRETT

Updated Oct. 17, 2012 7:28 p.m. ET

A Bangladeshi man was arrested Wednesday and charged with trying to detonate a 1,000-pound car bomb outside the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, a target he chose in a bid to disrupt the U.S. economy, authorities said.

MORE ON THE N.Y. FED CASE

- Can You Wage Jihad With a Visa?
- Read the Complaint

MORE ON DOMESTIC TERRORISM

- Trial Details Terror Planning

Quazi Mohammad Rezwanaul Ahsan Nafis was taken into custody in a lower Manhattan hotel room after repeatedly using a cellphone to try to detonate material that he believed was a bomb in a van parked outside the New York Fed, officials said.

NEWCO

Source: <http://www.wsj.com/articles/SB10000872396390443684104578062880093425110>